PARIS. France, May 6.—M. 8 arthou, minister of labor in the cabinet of the president of France and dealth with the strike situation of French telegraphers, which was re cently solved in favor of the strikers, offers an interesting study for the people of the United States, who recently also faced a similar strike from similar sources. Both were tests of the strength of the labor unio ns. But unionism has so far advanced in France beyond the situation in America as an object worthy of deepest study lest the American sys tem ultimately become the French.

SIX YEAR OLD PARIS, May 6.—The Postal Telegraph and Telephone Employes' Association threw down the ganntiet in the battle with the government today by transferring itself into union. This places the association upon the same footing as any workmen's union with the right to strike, which is nothing short of open revutation. The sudden and sensational sequel to Premier Clemenceau's failure today to receive a deputation of postal employes who called to demand a redemption of promises they claim government made when the recent strike ended. The premier was ill but the declaration pretended to nelleve his indisposition was simulated.
